Webinar Description

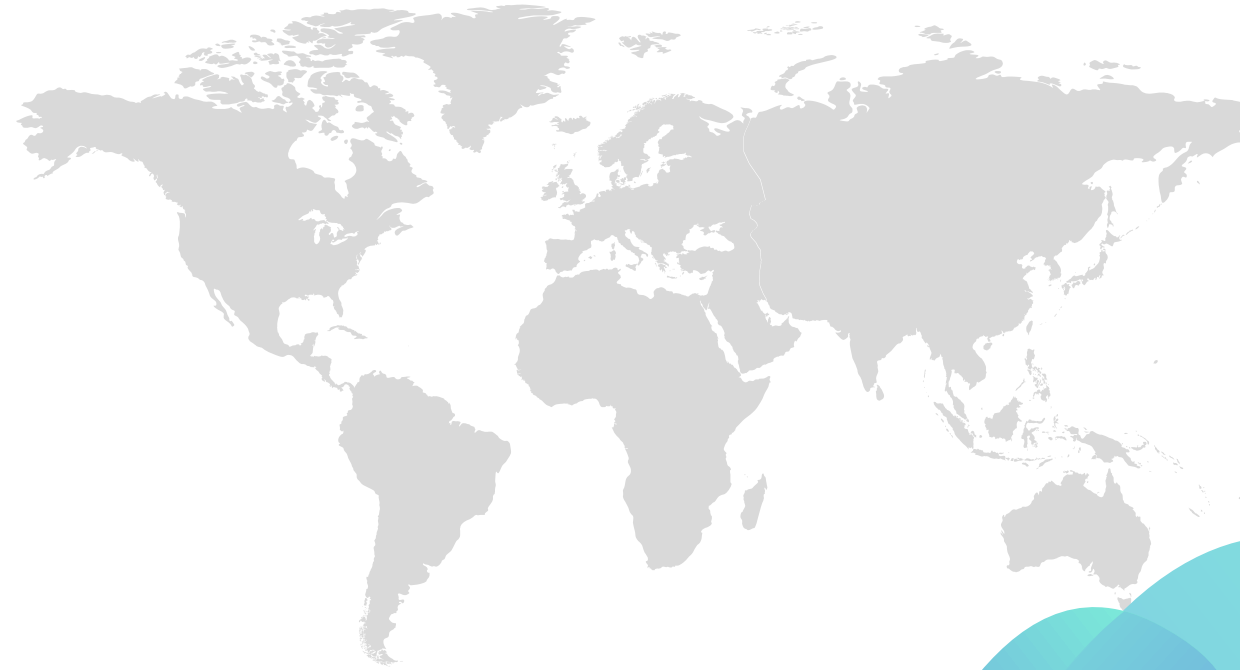

Teams are the way organizations get their work done and bring innovation and creativity to their industry. In this one-hour webinar be prepared to learn how compensation is not necessarily the driving force behind high-performing team members. By spending time and money on building capacity on a team through training, coaching, and mentoring, organizations save money in the long run and build highly effective teams. The largest barriers to team productivity are lack of effective communication, lack of trust, and the lack of ability to collaborate. In this webinar, we will explore how to overcome these obstacles as we build teams that function efficiently and how to deal with underperforming and disruptive team members.

Teamwork is becoming the norm in how organizations get their work done. In order to have a successful and productive team, we must have an understanding of team dynamics and the individual personalities we are dealing with. By understanding team dynamics and what goes into motivating teams we create a formula for high productivity in our organizations.
