

Webinar on

BEST SELLER - Creating A High Performance Team: Overcoming The Five Dysfunctions Of A Team

Learning Objectives

- *Five Dysfunctions of a Team framework
How to build team trust*
- How to identify and shift your team's mindset
- How to manage team conflict effectively
- How to create a results-oriented team
- How to identify what a high performing looks like for your company

This webinar explores the foundations of creating highly functional teams. These teams share a commitment to self-awareness, solid relationships and accountability which form the basis for deep trust and great results.

PRESENTED BY:

Claudette Rowley, Cultural Brilliance CEO, is a cultural design and change management consultant with a knack for building strategic plans and orchestrating organizational changes that boost business performance and increase employee engagement at the same time. For the past eighteen years, Claudette has consulted, trained and coached executive leaders and management teams at Fortune 1000 companies, small businesses, and start-ups to create a pro-active and innovative workplace culture that delivers outstanding results throughout all areas of an organization.

Best Seller

Duration : 60 Minutes

Price: $150

Webinar Description

High performing teams are the backbones of any company. As Patrick Lencioni, author of The Five Dysfunctions of a Team, states “Teamwork is the last untapped resource.” This webinar explores the foundations of creating highly functional teams. These teams share a commitment to self-awareness, solid relationships and accountability which form the basis for deep trust and great results. We will also discuss the importance of mindset on a team. Like organizational culture, team mindset drives team relationships, decisions and problem-solving.

Teams often struggle to resolve conflict effectively and as a result, conflict gets swept under the rug or becomes toxic over time. Participants will explore how team conflict can be generative and can add – rather than detract – from a team’s success.

Who Should Attend ?

Leaders and managers who want to build high-performance teams, Companies or industries in which teamwork is critica

Why Should Attend ?

How teams work together, communicate and resolve conflict can drive the success – or failure – of an organization. After effective leadership, productive, creative teamwork is the number two factor in high performing companies. During this webinar, you'll learn how

To apply Patrick Lencioni's Five Functions to your team

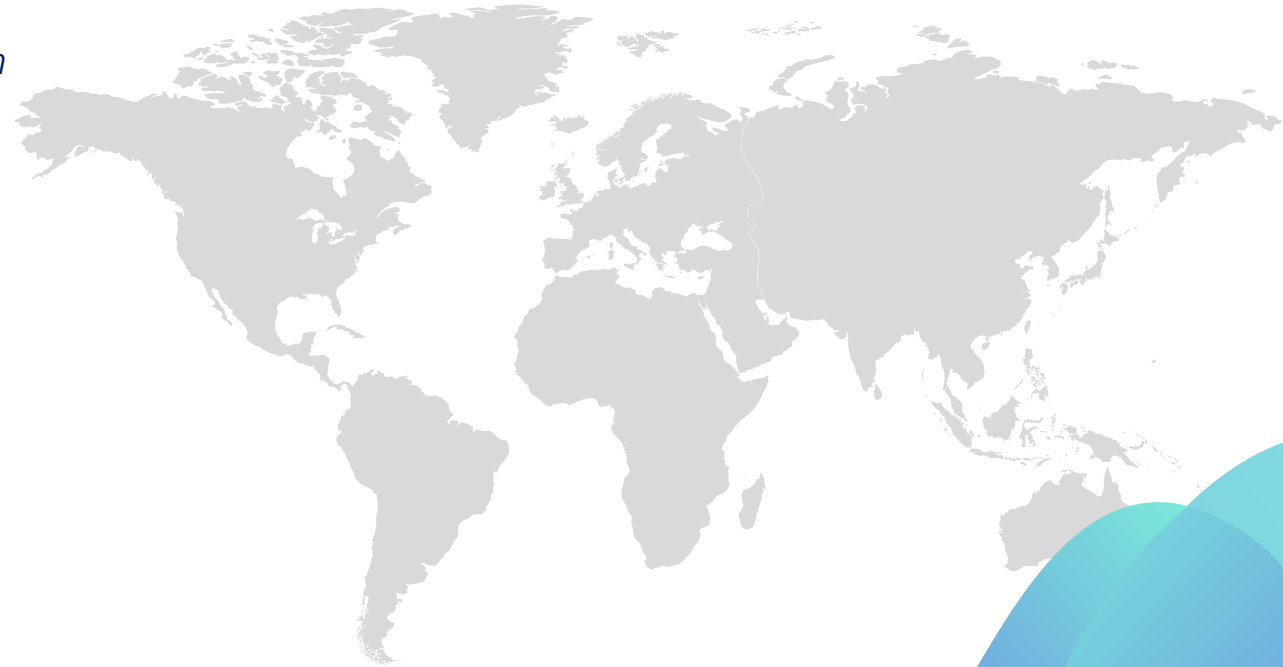

To assess your team's functioning including areas of strength and improvement

To explore the level of trust in your team and strategies for building better trust among team members

To leverage mindset to increase your team's performance

To increase your team's productivity through effective conflict resolution

To develop a plan of action for increasing your team's performance

To register please visit:

www.grceducators.com
support@grceducators.com
740 870 0321