

Webinar on

4 Webinars To Understanding And Analyzing Financial Statements In Depth

Webinar Description

This bundled webinar will provide you a good sound working knowledge of financial statements and substantially enhance your ability to use them in the management of resources, improving the profits and productivity. This program will examine Profit And Loss Statements and look at ways that they inform us about businesses.

The webinar format is 1-1.5 hours of audio-visual presentation, including a brief Q&A session.

This webinar bundle includes below 4 recorded webinars:

The Making of Financial Statements : Accounting 101 Simplified

Understanding & Analyzing Financial Statements

Profit and Loss Statements: What A Lender Needs to Know and Ask

Analyzing Financial Statements

The Making of Financial Statements : Accounting 101 Simplified

Presented by Carl Young

All business produce financial transactions. These transactions are transformed into three financial statements that indicate the financial results produced from these transactions. Results are expressed in required statements: Balance Sheet, Income Statement, and Cash Flow Statement. These statements provide the language that communicates the financial health of the company to its managers and stakeholders.

Understanding & Analyzing Financial Statements

Presented by Carl Young

This webinar provides this simple platform and moves the many myths about accounting and financial statements to simple to understand and apply tools and techniques. Special emphasis is placed on an understanding of the various terms used. These financial statements are considered the language of business and the means and methods by which the financial health of the company is conveyed to the owners, managers, and stakeholders. The ability to understand and analyze financial statements is key and relevant to making sound business decisions.

Profit and Loss Statements: What A Lender Needs to Know and Ask

Presented by Vincent DiCara

Profit and Loss Statements need to be examined by anyone who makes a loan to a business because Profit and Loss Statements tell us a number of things about a business. This program will examine the questions that need to be answered when evaluating the information contained in Profit and Loss Statements. This program will examine cash flow that can be identified as part of a Profit and Loss Statement and how that cash flow can be used to determine repayment ability.

Analyzing Financial Statements

Presented by Ron Sereika

It is difficult to get everything you need for a credit report as most of them have outdated financial information. One of the best things you can do especially for your major customers is to get audited financial statements. Any account that you sell to that is publically traded has financial statements available on their State's SEC.GOV website. Once you have the financial statements you now have the information and tools you need to make determinations for: Do you grant them a loan, do we buy our next piece of equipment from them, and will they be around to support the product if something goes wrong? Do we sell to them and how much?

To register please visit:

www.grceducators.com
support@grceducators.com
740 870 0321