

Webinar on

The Art Of Not Motivating

Date : July 26, 2021

Areas Covered

- How motivation and engagement are linked*
- The importance of the most common basic human needs*
- How to create a motivational environment that accelerates team productivity*
- Techniques that energize team members to take on new challenges*

This webinar takes a fresh look at motivation; what it really is and why a leader must create a motivational environment rather than trying to motivate people.

PRESENTED BY:

Bob Mason works with companies that want supervisors and managers who are more effective leaders leading more productive teams. During a 30-year U.S. Air Force career in aircraft maintenance and combat rescue, he was fortunate to learn leadership working for and with great leaders. He lives in Albuquerque, New Mexico where he and his wife enjoy hiking and exploring Southwestern history.

Date : July 26, 2021

Time : 01: 00 PM EST

Duration : 60 Minutes

Price: $149

Webinar Description

This webinar takes a fresh look at motivation; what it really is and why a leader must create a motivational environment rather than trying to motivate people. This webinar uses Bob's unique model of motivation created from more than 40 years of leadership experience.

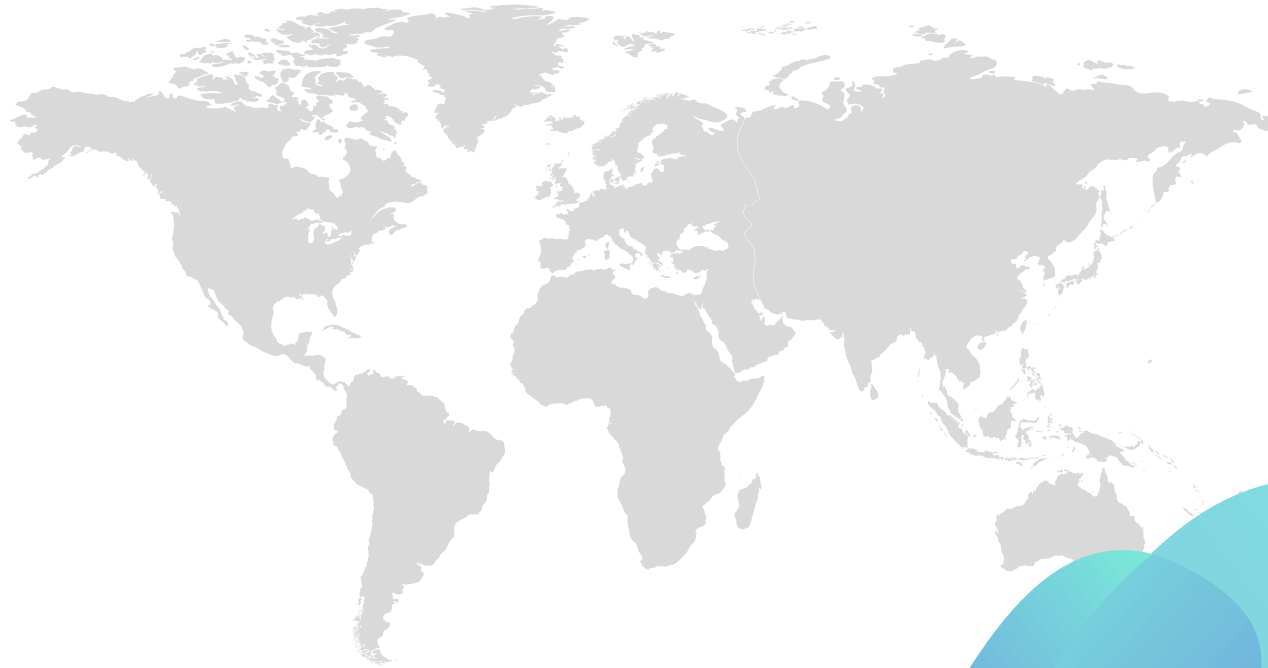

Who Should Attend ?

Supervisors, Managers, and anyone else with responsibility for the actions of others.

Why Should You Attend ?

Motivation and engagement are hot topics these days but what is motivation and how do you get team members to be engaged? If you supervise people this webinar is a must. The webinar will help you understand how to create a motivational environment that will result in more productive teams and more engaged team members.

To register please visit:

www.grceducators.com
support@grceducators.com
740 870 0321