Why Should Attend ?

The workforce has changed tremendously, with five generations in the workplace and five different job expectations, feedback is a must. Many employees leave because of lack of feedback. If you are new to providing feedback, wanting the best practice of giving feedback or just need to do a better job with providing feedback, then this session is for you.

It is a known fact when employees are giving constructive feedback, productivity increases and employees are more motivated. It is also a known fact, lack of feedback employees become disengaged and ultimately leave for another job.

If you are looking to retain employees, feedback is a must!
