Webinar Description

Global teams demand special attention to differences in culture, communication barriers, and inherent trust existing among the team members. A lack of cultural awareness in a multicultural environment can create a sense of division among workers. Workers can develop cliques that make it hard to create a sense of teamwork and unity. Instead, the "us" versus "them" mentality that can develop from a lack of cultural awareness can divide workers. These include knowing the cultural differences that exist on the team and taking steps to educate the other team members understanding how this affects how they should approach different situations.

Who Should Attend ?

Managers and leaders who lead a diverse workforce or teams of employees or clients from different cultures and need to build collaboration.

Why Should Attend ?

Communication styles, languages, culture, expressions, and scheduling work across time zones as well as, even the interpretation of time are some challenges that you must navigate. You need to be aware of and sensitive to the various customs and beliefs among the many different cultures.
