

Webinar on

6-Levels Of Leadership

Learning Objectives

A few definitions of Leadership :

Positional leadership

Transactional leadership

Transitional leadership

Attractional leadership

Transformational leadership

Servant leadership

This webinar course explains about the qualities and levels of leadership

PRESENTED BY:

*Hormoz Mogarei
30 years in Lean Management and Manufacturing with 20 years of it with Toyota, Toyota partners, and suppliers/subsidiaries both in the U.S. and in Japan.
Have successfully implemented 300+ Lean projects on the shop-floor (Gemba), including How to achieve Zero Defect for 13-consecutive months in a fast-paced factory wherein every 53-seconds a vehicle would be completed and delivered to the dea*

On-Demand Webinar

Duration : 90 Minutes

Price: $200

Webinar Description

We must first come up with a conclusive, simple and easy to understand definition for Leadership. One good definition that I like is this: “Leadership is the ability to entice others to want to follow you!”

Followers have to want to follow their leaders, which means leading by fear, intimidation, formal power, coercive power, or even reward power are not indicative of Leadership. True leaders are to use legitimate, expert or referent power only. Legitimate power is based on the formal authority that the person has based on his responsibilities within the organization. He/she should immediately gain the competence, knowledge, and experience so he can quickly gain Expert power. After this, if the person is likable and followable, he/she can equip himself/herself with referent power. It is only then when the person, has the authority, possess the necessary expertise and competence and is also approachable and likable, can be in a position that people would want to follow him/her.

Who Should Attend ?

C-level executives,

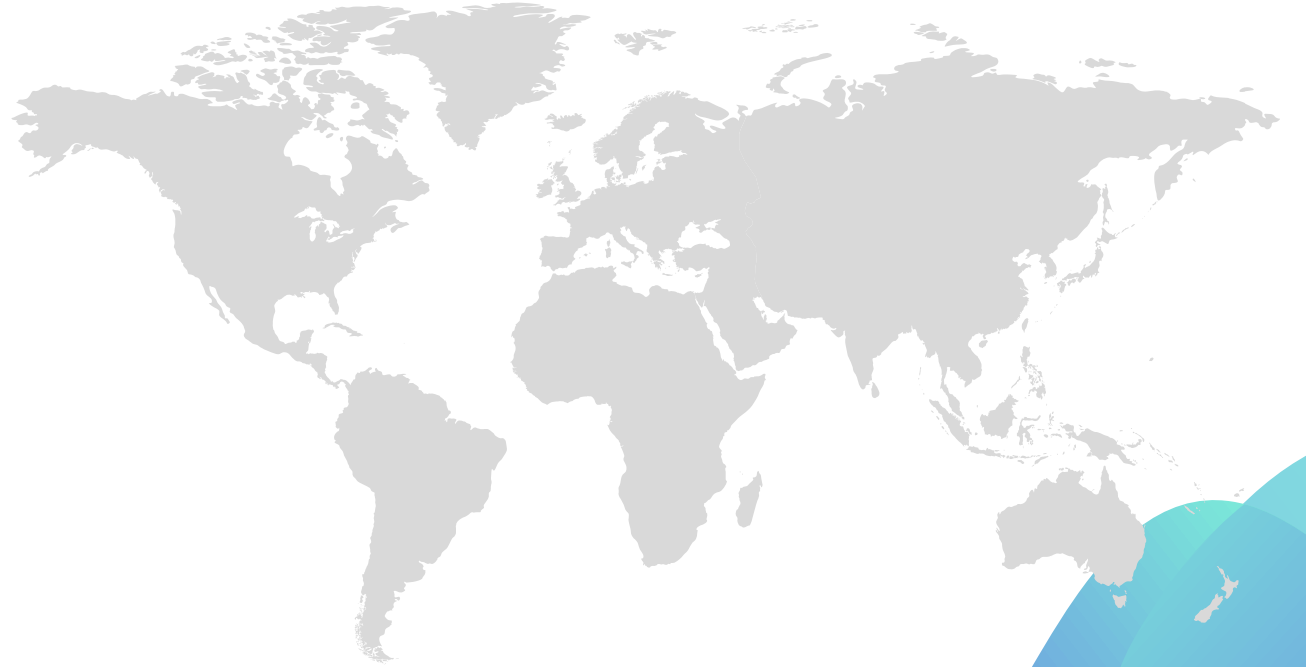

Managers,

Frontline supervisors, and engineers who are regularly in contact with people

Why Should Attend ?

Leadership is talking about a lot but often in a very mystified way. Very seldom I see that leadership has been dissected into bitesize, digest-able and easy to understand. As a result, it still remains as a series of characteristics and mannerisms that those who possess them are born with them and those who don't, have no prayers! This Webinar will attempt to demystify leadership and its 6 different levels so you can achieve it in a systematic (step-by-step, logical and organized) way!

To register please visit:

www.grceducators.com
support@grceducators.com
740 870 0321