Webinar Description

We will review consideration for opening businesses in light of COVID-19. We will consider reasons to open and the liability risks associated with that activity. If the decision is made to open, we will discuss how to minimize liability by adopting policies, changing shifts, modifying physical space, screening employees, and requiring the use of PPE such as masks.

Who Should Attend ?

In-House Counsel

Facility Managers

Why Should You Attend ?

States are allowing businesses to reopen. If your business or your client's business is one of these, what factors should you consider before opening your doors? Taking into account your state's guidelines and the safety of employees and customers, what policies and procedures need revision? What are the benefits of reopening, and what are the risks of staying closed?

This one-hour webinar will discuss these and other issues, such as:

- Liability concerns
- Employee concerns
- Operational concerns
