Webinar on

Working With Multiple Bosses Successfully

GRCEDUCATORS Axons Technology and Solutions

Learning Objectives

) Identify the preferred communication and work style of each manager and flex your own style to be compatible

) Set up clear plans, schedules, and concrete expectations up front to avoid crises, miscommunication, and frustration

Use aligned assertive communication to set boundaries, "manage up," and define priorities

Develop strategies and tactics to resolve conflicts among different managers' expectations

Convert the experience of multiple managers into a positive learning and growth opportunity to advance your career

This webinar, You will learn battle-tested techniques for managing your bosses and your own time.

PRESENTED BY:

Rebecca Staton-Reinstein has had multiple bosses. She initially found the experience exhausting and frustratingly stressful. Then she learned the "secrets" of working with these managers and the situation. She has worked with clients who face the same challenges and helped them learn to get required results while maximizing learning from each boss.

On-Demand Webinar Duration : 90 Minutes Price: $200

Webinar Description

Most people find it challenging enough to work well with even ONE boss. But if you're working with two bosses – or MORE – the challenge may seem nearly insurmountable. Dealing with the workload is tough, but now you've also must manage multiple communications styles, sets of expectations, schedules, projects, and more. This can mean multiple headaches. Even if the "official" designation is 50% of your time for Mr. A. and 50% of your time for Ms. B., the reality is BOTH may act as if 100% of your time is devoted just to them! Learn to manage up in a diplomatic, practical, and successful way, to get your work done and keep all your bosses satisfied.

You will learn battle-tested techniques for managing your bosses and your own time. In today's world of "do more with less" and reduced staff to accomplish mandatory results, many people find themselves reporting to more than one person and becoming frustrated with contradictory demands. Learn to turn these challenges into accomplishments as you become more adept at meeting their differing needs.

Who Should Attend ?

Administrative Assistants Executive Assistants Supervisors/Managers/Directors Contractors/Consultants "Bosses" who must deal with multiple bosses Anyone at any level who has more than one boss www.grceducators.com support@grceducators.com 740 870 0321

To register please visit:

